

REDaction v Charlton

28/09/04

Story by Paul

The REDaction supporters group have again organised a few things for Saturday's game against Charlton that we hope will help keep people in a singing mood for 90 minutes and get behind the team...

Great Moments montage

At half time on the Jumbotrons, the full seven-minute 'Greatest Moments' montage will be shown. It will also be shown 25 minutes before kick-off. Some of you may have seen snippets of this played at various times in home games so far this season, but hopefully everyone will get to view it this time round, so at half time it's hairs up on the back of ya neck time at Highbury!

North Bank Knees Up

Another outing for the NBKU boys, so for all fans with tickets in the North Bank stand on that day, come along to the lower tier concourse from around 2pm onwards for a good session, and get some of the new songs out.

Flags for a pound

We've had 2000 flags made up, with a unique design we hope everyone will like. They'll be available around the ground, on Saturday only, for a pound a go - just a little bit cheaper than some of the official ones at the club shop!! Flags at football are for creating a wall of colour and we've never had a great visual spectacle at Highbury, so make sure you get ya flags out for the lads! Don't just roll em up and take em home for the kids! It'll also be a good excuse to dig out any older flags and banners, so bring your own from home and get involved.
